TAKE DECISIVE STEP TO SAVE TAFT'S POLICIES

43 Republican Senators Enter Into Offensive and Defensive Alliance.

APPROVED BY PRESIDENT

Breach in Party Is Widening and Each Faction Holds the Other Responsible.

WASHINGTON, May 4. Through the formation today of an organization which its leaders claim represents a clear majority of the entire Senate and to be made up wholly of regular Republicans, a movement was started to settle the question whether the Senate shall remain conservative, become radical or be thrown into political chaos as far as concerns any coherent policy in regard to the administration program.

Senator Aldrich called the regular Republicans together and confronted them with a grim description of the possible political effect of their apparent defeat at the hands of the insurgent Republicans and Democrats in the fight over the traffic agreement section of the administration railroad bill. He asked his associates whether they were ready to submit to domination by such a combination. Any such surrender, he warned them, meant the failure of the Taft policies and the downfall of conservative control, not only in the Senate but in the Republican party generally.

Someone reminded Senator Aldrich that Senators then and there gathered together were not in agreement on all points. Whereupon he replied that they must get together and agree to stand together and let the details be secondary. Otherwise, he said, Congress would adjourn without a single item of the Taft program accomplished.

Decide to Take Heroic Measure.

The entire tone of this conference was belligerent toward the insurgents. This was the dominant note: "Let us get together and stand as a unit against every insurgent proposition. If the insurgents propose anything good, we'll take it over bodily and put it through as our own; if they propose anything bad, we'll stamp it out."

It was stated without reservation that President Taft had been kept fully advised of the situation and was entirely in sympathy with the plan and virtually pledged to it. It was said in behalf of the conferees that while the measures that would be resorted to were heroic, they were necessary in defense of the administration and the integrity of the Republican party and as a means to any legislation whatever.

Aldrich Is Chosen Leader.

To Senator Aldrich was given the leadership of the new movement. He left late today for Rhode Island and will not return before Tuesday. The plan meanwhile is to mark time, and endeavor to "hold the fort," while there will be many conferences at the White House and elsewhere to perfect the militant plan. The intention is to avoid test votes on any subject of importance until next week.

Every hour brings additional evidence of the widening breach between the regulars and the insurgents in both houses. Conservative Republican leaders with hardly an exception confess that in neither house is there a coherent majority. Even those unfamiliar as yet with the plans of the new Senate organization seem to be awaiting the return of President Taft to Washington to see what, if anything, he can do to get at least some remnants of his program through Congress. As matters stand tonight the prospect from the Republican viewpoint, is anything but alluring.

The situation has developed almost without halt from the beginning of the last session when the warfare began in the House over the speakership and the adoption of the rules. Some locate the beginning of the split as far back as the Fifty-ninth Congress and trace it down to the suddenly widening break of last year's extra session since when there has been little semblance of harmony on the majority side, and especially of the House of Representatives.

Cannot Agree on Anything.

The direct and immediate cause of the danger to the legislative program is that the two factions in the Republican party have been unable to agree together upon details of the proposed legislation. Both sides agree that this is the cause but each side blames the other.

The insurgents say that the fault lies in the arrogance and stubbornness

TAFT REBUKES BRYAN FOR CRITICISING GOV. HUGHES

Decries "Cant of Demagogue" in Address to Business Men of St. Louis.

ASKS FOR SQUARE DEAL

Speaks on Conservation to Farmers and on Pending Legislation to Railroad Men.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—President Taft's five days' trip to the middle west ended here today and he left late tonight for Washington, where he is scheduled to arrive early Friday morning.

It remained for St. Louis to give Mr. Taft the heartiest demonstration of his present journey. The city was gaily decorated and there were cheering throngs wherever the President went. Several times his motor car was stopped to receive bouquets. These Mr. Taft later sent to St. Luke's hospital and to the Home for Incurables.

The apparent warmth of the reception here seemed to affect the President and when at the luncheon of the Business Men's league late this afternoon President Walker Hill praised him for appointing Messrs. Lurton and Hughes to the supreme court, Mr. Taft launched into a vigorous speech, paying his respects to Mr. Bryan for his reported criticism of Governor Hughes. He decried the "cant of the demagogue" and the "disposition of public journals" to make unjust charges against men in public life.

Appeals for Square Deal.

"All I asked for is fair play and a square deal," said the President, "not especially for myself, for indeed I am in a position where I can get along better without it than some of the rest, but I am appealing for justice in dealing with all classes.

"I said all classes. Of course, practically it is pretty hard to give. To our socialistic friends who decry our present institutions I could furnish a good deal better ground for complaint than they themselves give.

"I have talked about this before and it is no new theme with me. I think if they were to object to our administration of justice and its delays, arising from the traditional methods of courts, by which the man with the longest purse has the advantage, they would be getting, as the children say, 'pretty warm' toward a subject that will bear full discussion, and upon which we must have very decided reform. We must arrange it so cases are decided promptly."

Talks About Railroads.

The President tonight, as the guest of the Traffic club of St. Louis, referred in a general way to the railroad legislation pending at Washington, but said he was not sufficiently informed of the situation to discuss it in detail. Mr. Taft said while he was a federal judge of the Sixth circuit from 1893 to 1900, it fell to his lot to appoint receivers for nearly all the railroads in the circuit. He found at that time what he said a great many people seem blissfully ignorant of, that it takes "a whole lot of money to run a railroad."

"But I understand all the railroads are on a good basis now," said the President, "and I hope they will continue so. I sincerely trust we will never experience again with respect to railroads or other business what we had to go through from 1893 to 1900.

"In those days the railroads were not run entirely according to the law and a judge had difficulty even in keeping his receivers out of rebates. But railroads and shippers can now look each other in the face with the knowledge they are not engaged in a

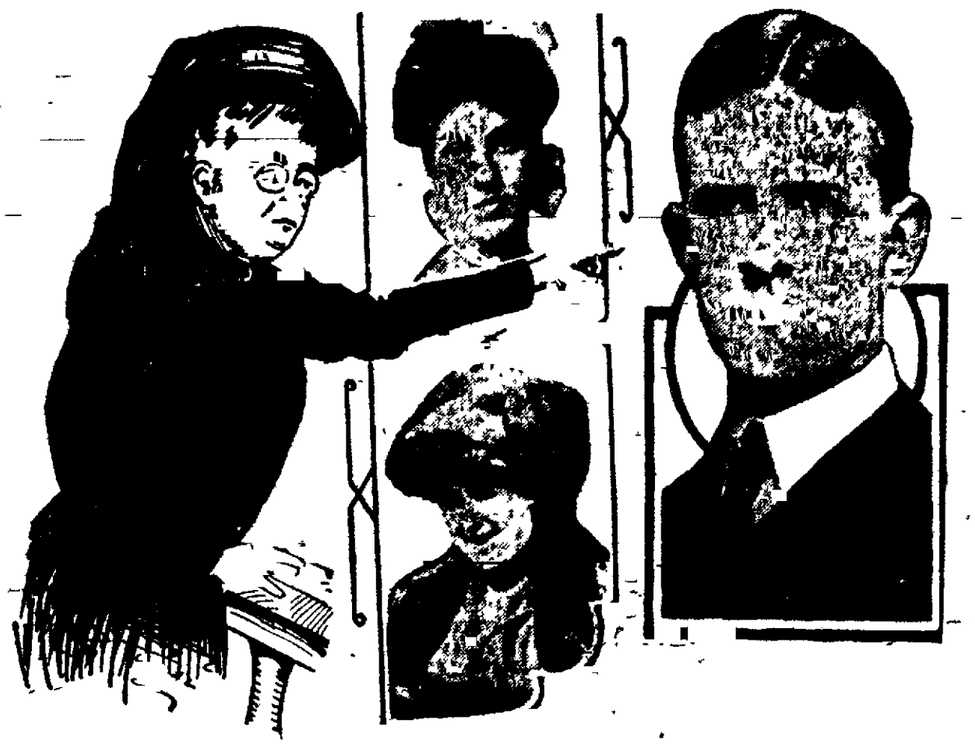
TO DRAIN EL PASO MINE

Agreement Reached Between President Burris and Roosevelt Tunnel Contractor.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 4.—An agreement of importance was entered into today between Allen L. Burris, president and general manager of the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company and A. E. Carlton president of the First National bank of this city, owner of the contract for the completion of the Roosevelt drainage tunnel whereby a connection will be made with the tunnel when it reaches a point adjacent to the El Paso shaft and all the water drained off. The drilling will begin as soon as the frame work can be put up and the tunnel reaches the desired point. There is 300 feet of water in the El Paso shaft and the tunnel is at present 1,200 feet from it. The contract has been let to E. H. McVey a mining engineer who has already commenced operations.

POINTS FINGER OF SCORN AT DR. HYDE



Mrs. Logan O. Swope, sister-in-law of the late Colonel Swope, whose death under mysterious conditions has led to the trial of Dr. Bennett Clarke Hyde on a charge of poisoning. Upper center, Lucy Lee Swope, niece of Colonel Swope, who is thought to have been poisoned with typhoid germs. Below, Margaret Swope, who also had typhoid fever under conditions which point strongly to poisoning with disease germs. At right, Dr. Hyde, the man who is charged with the crimes.

Should the charges made against Dr. Bennett Clarke Hyde be sustained he will go into history as the greatest criminal of the decade. He is charged with the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope millionaire uncle by marriage, who died October 3, 1907; with the murder of Christian Swope, nephew of Colonel Swope and legatee under his will, who died December 6, 1909, and with manslaughter in connection with the death of James Moses Hunton, cousin of Colonel Swope, who died October 1, 1909. Dr. Hyde is also charged with attempting to kill by poisoning with typhoid germs Margaret Swope, Sarah Swope, Lucy Lee Swope, nieces and legatees under the Swope will; also four disinterested parties, Georgia Compton, dressmaker for the Swope family; Mildred Fox, a friend, Nora Belle Dixon, a governess, and Leonara Copridge, negro servant.

C. H. DUDLEY HEADS NEW SCHOOL BOARD

VAN E. ROUSE IS RE-ELECTED AS SECRETARY.

Other Officers Re-elected Without Opposition—Routine Business Transacted.

C. H. Dudley was elected president and Van E. Rouse was re-elected secretary at the first meeting of the new school board last night. Rouse's salary continuing at $1,500 a year. All the board members were present. A. G. Sharp was re-elected treasurer at a salary of $100 a year; George Sleeman was re-elected superintendent of buildings at $1,200 and Miss Ara B. Perryman was rechosen as stenographer of the board, at $960.

It was the shortest meeting a Colorado Springs school board has held in years. The members held a caucus in the afternoon and determined on what action they formally would take at night, so most of the business was on the cut-and-dried order. Bills amounting to $1,755 for the month were allowed.

The superintendent of schools presented the monthly report of enrollment and attendance in the schools and commented on the ravages being made among the children by measles. Total enrollment for April was 6,060 but the average daily attendance of boys was only 2,076, and of girls only 2,098. Seven suspensions were made, all being of High School students, and parents during the month made 207 calls upon teachers. But two cases of corporal punishment were reported.

Mr. Stephens and Superintendent Dietrich were authorized to complete arrangements for the graduating exercises of the High School class. Dietrich said the High School orchestra would play but that there would be other music as well and he and Mr. Stephens will engage this music and contract for flowers and other decorations.

Her Request Denied.

The board refused a request from Miss Ida MacNair, a former teacher in the Lincoln school who resigned Tuesday to finish her course in the Greeley normal school. She asked the board to pay her full time up to the close of the schools in June and also to pay her in advance. The board refused to pay her beyond last Tuesday.

On the reading of a communication from former Principal Richards requesting that a diploma of the class of '05 be granted to Carl Blackman who was a member of that class but who did not finish in all his studies the board granted the request. Blackman since having completed the work.

Mrs. Mowry sole woman member of the board and who was elected in the place of Dr. Peavey said she did not know whether she should be congratulated or sympathized with. She said she had 25 telephone calls of congratulation yesterday and she was fatigued from answering them.

ROCK ISLAND SETTLES WITH STRIKING SHOPMEN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 4.—The Rock Island has settled with the striking machinists and agreed on a flat increase of 3 cents an hour.

TWO DAYS IN WHICH TO SECURE $7,000

SUM MUST BE RAISED BY 9 P. M. TOMORROW.

Friends of Y. W. C. A. Should Rally to Its Aid at Once if Campaign Is to Be Successful.

Seven thousand dollars must be raised before tomorrow night at 9 o'clock the time of closing the campaign, to guarantee the pledges already made toward the Young Women's Christian association building fund. This means that friends of the association must rally to the aid immediately. The contributions are coming in steadily, and, while they show widespread interest in the movement, they are of such small sums that they do not make a sufficient total to insure the success of the project.

The clock now stands at $53,000. This is $7,000 short of the amount needed to clinch the subscriptions that have already been made, as they are contingent upon the raising of $60,000. The association, therefore, faces a crisis.

The most remarkable feature of the contest has been the splendid work of the members of the teams of 100 young women. They have raised $5,944.36, as follows: No. 1, $462.25; No. 2, $335.50; No. 3, $272; No. 4, $398.75; No. 5, $629.25; No. 6, $342; No. 7, $906.86; No. 8, $1,050.25; No. 9, $459.50; No. 10, $1,033.

Those serving yesterday were Mrs. W. C. Robinson, Mrs. H. Versteeg, Mrs. J. R. Clark, Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon and Dr. Josephine Peavey.

GOLD MEDAL PRESENTED TO PEARY IN LONDON

LONDON, May 4.—Before a vast audience at the Royal Albert hall the Royal Geographical society tonight presented Commander Robert E. Peary with the special gold medal of the society and through its president welcomed the American explorer as "the first and only human being who ever led a party of his fellow creatures to a pole of the earth." A silver replica of the medal was presented to Capt. Robert A. Bartlett.

Peary's lecture was enthusiastically received.

PEET SOAP PLANT BURNED

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 4.—The plant of the Peet Brothers Manufacturing company, one of the largest soap and glycerine factories in the southwest, was destroyed by fire tonight, entailing a loss estimated at $[illegible]. The flames threatened the plants of the Schwarzchild and Sulzberger Packing company and of the American Dressed Beef company. Heroic work of firemen prevented serious damage to the Schwarzchild plant when the south wall of the Peet plant fell upon it.

William Peet, president of the company, said tonight the insurance was about $200,000.

MASSACHUSETTS HOUSE AGAINST INCOME TAX

BOSTON, May 4.—President Taft's income tax amendment was defeated in the House by a vote of [illegible] to [illegible] today. The house refused to substitute the amendment for an adverse report by the committee on federal relations was defeated 101 to 136.

AN IDEAL METHOD OF ROAD BUILDING

MAY BE TRIED IN THIS COUNTY SOON.

Commissioner Hutchinson, Back From West, Tells of His Investigations There.

Beginning next year, El Paso county will have permanent roads of the most modern type if County Commissioner Harry Hutchinson is allowed to make use of the road building information which he secured on his trip in Ohio, Maryland and Virginia. Mr. Hutchinson returned to the city yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock after having made a thorough study of the road building methods in use in the east. The trip was made at his own personal expense but the county will profit by the knowledge which he obtained.

According to Commissioner Hutchinson, of all the methods he investigated only one really is admirably suited to El Paso county roads. The road is graded up well. A coating of crushed stone is then used for a top dressing, after which the road is rolled with a six-ton steam roller. Crude oil is sprinkled on the highway with ordinary hand sprinklers. The road becomes very hard, has no dust and sheds water like a tin roof.

The cost of making this kind of road is estimated at approximately $700 a mile. Where the road is well graded the cost is much less. A rock crusher is kept on the road where the highway is being dressed, and the road is sprinkled with oil twice a year. After the road has been built it requires practically no work for years to maintain it except the semiannual sprinkling with oil.

This type of road is found to be most satisfactory in the county in which Mansfield, O., is situated. The expense of building it is more than counterbalanced by the small expense in keeping it in first-class condition. Automobiles and heavy wagons do not crack it nor is it affected by any kind of weather. Commissioner Hutchinson thinks it the ideal kind of road and will make every effort to secure the purchase of a steam roller and rock crusher next year that it may be tried here.

It is believed that El Paso county could secure a force of convicts to do the work and this would lessen the expense of building. That the road is permanent is expected to appeal to the taxpayers.

GOVERNMENT TO RAISE BATTLESHIP MAINE

WASHINGTON, May 4.—After 12 years the dismantled hulk of the battleship Maine is to be removed from Havana harbor and the bodies which went down with the vessel will be interred in the national cemetery at Arlington. A bill providing for such removal and burial which has been passed by the House was today passed by the Senate.

MRS. SWOPE CALMLY REVIEWS TRAGEDIES IN HER HOME

Relates Reasons for Accusing Her Daughter's Husband of Murder.

STATE'S CASE IS CLOSED

Defendant's Attorney Makes Strenuous Effort to Weaken Testimony of Toxicologist.

KANSAS CITY, May 4.—To the disappointment of several hundred people who used physical force, cajolery and friendship, to pry their way into the criminal court room this afternoon, Mrs. Logan O. Swope went on the witness stand and calmly gave a synopsis of the Swope tragedies. Her testimony closed the state's case.

Only once did Mrs. Swope give way to emotion. This was when she was telling how Dr. Hyde informed her shortly after James Moss Hunton's death that Colonel Swope could not live. Mrs. Swope did not attack Dr. Hyde or his wife. They sat directly in front of her and she looked them both in the eyes several times. In return she received stares.

The whole situation between the two families was summed up during Mrs. Swope's cross-examination.

"You told Mrs. Hyde when she left your house on December 18 last, that you hoped she would come back, and she said she would return only when you invited her husband, I believe?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"That is exactly what happened," answered Mrs. Swope.

The defense attempted to show Mrs. Swope's antipathy toward Dr. Hyde had its beginning last fall over a financial matter.

"When Mrs. Hyde refused to give her portion of the Hunton estate over to Mrs. Liddie Moore, a sister of Mr. Hunton, you told her Clark Hyde had advised her to refuse, that he did not love her, and only wanted her money, did you not?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"I most certainly did not," said Mrs. Swope, warmly.

The contention of the defense that Dr. and Mrs. Hyde did not know whether they were remembered in Colonel Swope's will was denied by Mrs. Swope.

Cross-Examination of Dr. Vaughn.

Practically all of the opening session was consumed in the cross-examination of Dr. Victor C. Vaughn by Attorney Frank P. Walsh. Mr. Walsh's interrogations were confined solely to the investigations made upon the organs of Colonel Swope.

New features derived by the defense were.

Strychnine would accumulate in one organ of a body. All the liver of Colonel Swope has been destroyed since Dr. Hyde's scientists applied to Dr. Vaughn for part of it.

Only a small part of the strychnine said to have been taken from the liver remains, and none of the drug found has ever been full purified.

The liver contained only 960 grams, whereas the normal liver contains about 1,400 or 1,500 grams.

Mrs. Swope Takes Stand.

Mrs. Logan O. Swope, mother of Mrs. Hyde, took the witness stand at 2 o'clock.

The defense made strenuous objection to the witness telling about Dr. Hyde's courting of her daughter. Judge Latshaw overruled their objections but the state did not press the subject. Mrs. Swope simply said she met Dr. Hyde a year and a half before he was married to Frances Hyde June 21, 1905. Immediately after their meeting, said the witness, the

PLAN POLITICAL UNION

Representatives of Labor and Farmers' Organizations Conferring at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—A plan for the political union of the American Federation of Labor and the Farmers Educational and Co-operative union of America with its three million members is being worked out at a conference between labor union and farmers union officials in this city coincident with the farmers rally now in progress.

Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor is behind the movement. He with Frank Morrison secretary of the American Federation of Labor and 20 other labor officials has been in executive session with the farmers executive committee for the last three days and it was announced tonight that his plan probably will be indorsed.

Gompers denies any intention of forming a new political party. He hopes he says, to induce the agricultural men of the country to nominate and elect men favorable to the betterment of labor conditions, regardless of political affiliation.

NORWAY'S KING GIVES DINNER IN HONOR OF ROOSEVELT

All the Guests Stand While Ruler Toasts American Ex-President.

RECEPTION IS IMPRESSIVE

Capital Is Gaily Decorated and Crowd Greets Visitors by Uncovering Heads.

CHRISTIANIA, May 4.—King Haakon and Queen Maud were the first to greet ex-President Roosevelt on his arrival here today.

The streets of Christiania are brightened with decorations and almost everyone is wearing an American flag. A Roosevelt march, Roosevelt photographs and compilations of Roosevelt's sayings are being sold in the shops and on the highways.

This evening the king and queen gave a dinner at the palace in honor of their American guests. More than 200 eminent personages including the premier and cabinet ministers, political leaders, literary people and financiers were present.

When the dinner had advanced to the fourth course the king arose and all the guests stood.

"It is with great pleasure," said the king, "that I welcome you, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt here, in the name of the queen and myself and extend to your our hospitality. I do not speak in my own name alone, but am convinced that it is in the name of all Norwegians. The reception given you today will convince you of the truth of my words.

"I drink a toast to the United States and I drink a toast to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt."

Ex-President Responds Happily.

The company remained standing while the ex-President responded.

"It is a particular pleasure for me to be in Norway," he said, "and I have been deeply impressed with my generous reception. Norwegians have made such good citizens in the United States that I once remarked to a group of traveling Norwegians that I rather grudged it that they had left anybody in Norway.

"The Norwegians in America love the land of their birth and they love the country of their adoption. A man can love his wife all the better if he loves his mother a great deal."

Colonel Roosevelt touched on Norse literature and spoke of his pleasure when as President he was able to cable his good wishes to a new Norwegian king bearing the old name of Haakon.

"And," he continued, "it is a fine thing for the country that Haakon and Olaf should be the names borne by the ruler of today and the ruler of tomorrow. I drink with my whole heart to the health of your majesties."

The king and queen showed Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt the little Prince Olaf this afternoon, and the colonel, who had been telling anecdotes about Seth Bullock, said, "I wish Seth Bullock was here to see your small Olaf; he would be delighted with him."

Anecdote of Seth Bullock.

While Mr. Roosevelt was in his room, arranging his papers and dictating letters, the king came in quite informally and asked, "Wouldn't you like to have a cup of tea?"

"By George, I would," replied the colonel. The king returned and for more than an hour the two sat drinking tea and talking.

Colonel Roosevelt told of some of his ranch experiences and of an effective speech he made in a mining camp against free silver while Seth Bullock sat on a platform behind him. He spoke for an hour and not a man interrupted him. Everyone in the house seemingly was deeply interested.

At the conclusion of the speech he said to one of his ranching friends, "I think I held the audience pretty well."

"Held the audience well!" exclaimed the friend. "Seth Bullock with a six-shooter on each hip watching the crowd had given the tip that he would perforate the first man who peeped."

Impressive Reception.

The reception given Mr. Roosevelt on his arrival was impressive. There was no cheering at the railway station but the crowd uncovered respectfully. Cheering is rare in this country.

As Mr. Roosevelt stepped down the king crossed the platform and, without waiting for an introduction shook hands with the former President. He then presented Mr. Roosevelt to the queen and Mr. Roosevelt presented Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Kermit.

The queen then took the colonel's arm and the king offered his arm to Mrs. Roosevelt. Followed by Miss Ethel and Kermit, they walked through the royal waiting room, which was half filled with flowers and flags, to the carriages.

The party drove to the palace, where after a brief stop, the Roosevelts still accompanied by the king and queen and a few members of the royal household drove to the American legation where they had luncheon, as the guests of America's Minister Pierce.

of the long-time leaders of the majority toward the progressive policies represented by most of the Republicans of the middle west. The regulars charge that the insurgents are simply trying to destroy the Republican party by attempting to discredit its time-honored leadership and principles and to ride over the ruins to power

The striking thing about the whole situation, to the impartial observer, is the evident sincere conviction on the part of each side that it is, itself, loyal to Republicanism and wholly in the right, and that the other, either wilfully recreant or fanatically self-deceived, is more or less consciously a band of public enemies Whichever side is right, the battle has assumed deadly and certainly historic proportions. A good many politicians looking beyond the moment are asking what angle the struggle will take in the next Republican national convention.

Meanwhile the Democrats in both houses, are looking on with a "go-it-husband, go-it-bear" expression.

violation of the law. The problem, gentlemen of fixing railroad rates is a most difficult one, and the man who says he knows how to do it is the only one in the community who thinks so.

Refers to Bill Before Congress.

"There is now pending at Washington an interstate commerce bill. I can not comment on it because of conditions which I do not know. But I do know that as the bill was presented to Congress it was declared to conform to the promises of the Republican platform and bring the railroads more under the control of the interstate commerce commission on the one hand, and to give the railroads a little more freedom of action under the supervision of the interstate commission on the other

"There has been introduced in the House a modification of the long and short haul clauses. Just what it is I don't know Some people, however, seem to be in favor of a mileage basis for freight rates. I would view the adoption of such a principle with a great deal of anxiety.

"I doubt not, however, that full consideration will be given to such a section before it finally shall be made into law"

Speech to Farmers.

Earlier in the day the President spoke on the Panama canal at a breakfast of the Commercial club and addressed the Farmers union on conservation.

He declared the term conservation covered a wide range of subjects.

"But as concerns Congress at this time," he added, "conservation resolves itself into the necessity of passing at once a bill which will give to the executive unquestioned authority to withdraw lands for power sites and other purposes With this power in the hands of the President of the United States, we can sit comfortably by and discuss and devise the best means of disposing of the great public domain to the benefit of present and future generations."

CUBAN REPUBLIC FACES A CRISIS

INDEPENDENT NEGRO PARTY FOMENTS TROUBLE.

Race Question Squarely Made an Issue and May Result in Complete Political Disaster.

DANGER OF REVOLUTION.

By Frederic J Haskin

The Republic of Cuba is again in trouble Its government is seeking to suppress an incipient revolution and has caused the imprisonment of a great many leaders of the new independent negro party If the vigorous repressive measures undertaken by President Jose Miguel Gomes are immediately successful the Pearl of the Antilles may be spared another bloodletting But even the most optimistic friend of the present regime in Cuba must admit that the situation is extremely critical

If the Gomez government fails in its effort to prevent an actual revolt in arms, then the Cuban republic must confront the most acute crisis of its brief but tumultuous history. No nation of the western world suffered so long or so [illegible] the tyrranny of a despotic government. None expended so much of blood and treasure in its struggle for independence and the right of self-government. No land on earth possesses a higher heritage from nature. No infant nation in all the history of the world has been given such protection and guidance from an older and stronger power as the United States has given to Cuba.

Do Not Like Yankees

Arrived to the United States, Cuba might enjoy a certain measure of security of life and property not possible under any other circumstances, but it would not be the Cuba Libre for which Marti and Gomez and Palma and Maceo lived and died. For, call it ingratitude or call it prejudice, the fact remains that the Cuban does not like the Yankee. With the wounds of the Spanish task master's whip unhealed upon his back he prefers the Spaniard to the American The memory of America's chivalrous intervention in Cuba's behalf has been buried beneath an avalanche of contempt precipitated by the baseness of certain individual American adventurers. Many enlightened Cubans look forward to annexation as an inevitable, but none the less deplorable, event.

While it is impossible for anyone possessing the high ideals claimed for American political institutions to give unqualified approval to the personal or political career of Jose Miguel Gomez, everyone who has the good of Cuba at heart must hope that he will be successful in his efforts to end the incipient negro revolution. If he fails, and if the struggle between the races is now precipitated, nothing short of a miracle can save Cuba from certain and complete political disaster. It is the first time that the race question has been made squarely an issue, and it is, therefore, the first time that the Cuban republic has been face to face with the necessity of settling a vital question of internal politics.

The United States government took over the island of Cuba from Spain on January 1, 1899, and conducted the affairs of the island for three years while preparations were made for the inauguration of the independent government. In 1902 the United States turned over the control of the island to the Cuban government, at the head of which was President Tomas Estrada Palma. For more than three years the government conducted its own affairs, and was, to a degree, successful and prosperous.

Revolution Under Palma

But too many Cubans were burning with the desire to hold public office and to live off the public treasury The Palma government was unable to satisfy the demands of the hordes of office seekers. The result was a revolution Disappointed and disgruntled leaders raised the standard of revolt and, by means of inflammatory denunciation of the governing powers and insinuating appeals to the cupidity of the criminal classes, they attracted a large following Actual war was begun and fighting lasted a month

President Palma, unable to cope with the situation, appealed to the United States for aid President Roosevelt responded by sending to Cuba his secretary of war, William H Taft Mr Taft proclaimed himself provisional governor of the island and set up a government in Havana which took over the entire control of Cuban affairs and which endeavored to settle the differences among the Cuban people. In this settlement the provisional government went far in recognition of the right of revolution. By permitting the revolutionists to retain the ownership of the horses they had taken during the one month's war, the Americans gave what the Cubans were pleased to consider a seal of approval to the characteristic Latin-American industry of revolt for revenue only.

United States Retires

On January 28, 1909, the United States government for the second time retired from Cuba and turned over the full powers of sovereignty to the chosen representatives of the Cuban people. Immediately murmurs were heard from Zaylsta quarters complaining that Gomez was not giving his political partners a square deal in the distribution of pie. However, Zayas himself made no open complaint. The coalition between the Miguelistas and Zayistas continued nominally in force and effect until a few weeks ago, The rupture then was admitted, and the Miguelistas celebrated the end of the coalition by a great banquet in Havana.

MRS. SWOPE CALMLY

physician began to call on her daughter.

Describing the premises at her home as being in good condition, she said:

"There was no sickness in the house for many years prior to September, 1909."

Colonel Swope's injury to a shoulder, suffered early in September, was not serious, she said. He was improving, she testified, when Miss Pearl Keller was called on September 12 to nurse him.

Fearing, Mrs. Swope said that James Moss Hunton could not live after suffering the attack of apoplexy he ordered him taken to her room. It was there he died.

"Did you see the bleeding of Hunton?" asked Mr Reed.

"Not much of it," Mrs. Swope replied. "I glanced in the door just once. Dr. Hyde was jerking the string which was around the artery in Mr Hunton's arm."

Colonel Swope's Last Illness

Of the last illness of Colonel Swope Mrs. Swope said

"While Dr. Hyde, Miss Keller and I were at the breakfast table on the morning of October 3, the doctor gave her a capsule to administer to Colonel Swope. They went out and upon returning the nurse told me Mr. Swope had not taken the medicine, but would later.

"When Mr. Swope suffered his conclusion Dr Hyde said to me, 'It's just another case like Mr. Hunton's It's only a question of time now.'

"I was unnerved due to the death of Mr. Hunton, and when Dr Hyde, in whom, at that time, I had absolute confidence, said Colonel Swope's death was near I felt I could not go into the room Therefore, it was several hours before I went to his bedside."

WANAMAKER STORES ARE SELLING BIBLICAL INDEX

The biblical index invented by I. R. Smith of this city is being boomed by the management of the Wanamaker stores in the cities where the company does business, and General Manager Ogden of the Wanamaker system is advocating the introduction of the index in the public schools Stock in the Chromatic Index company, formed to sell the invention, recently has risen from 20 cents to $1 a share. The company's officers are J. P. Pollock, president; L. R. Smith vice president and general manager W. P. Love, secretary, and Dr J R Robinson, treasurer.

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in women's ailments and carefully adapted to their delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR INSTRUCTORS

BOARD WILL ALSO IMPROVE MIDLAND SCHOOL.

Practically All of Teachers Are Reappointed Superintendent Ewing Retains Place.

Appropriating $2,000 for repairs and improvements on the Midland school building, raising the salaries of all the teachers to the rate now in effect in Colorado Springs, reappointing nearly all the teachers with a few changes and the reorganization of the committees were the principal features of the meeting of the school board Tuesday night. The Rev. Duncan Lamont, who was recently elected to the board, took his seat and was appointed to fill the positions on the committees which his predecessor, Mr. Griffin held, namely, buildings and grounds, auditing and finance and rules and regulations. The officers of the board are the same as last year.

The re-appointment of Superintendent E F. Ewing with a substantial increas in salary, and the statement of the board praising Mr. Ewing's work during the last year in bringing up the standard of the schools, was a feature of the appointment of the teachers.

Teachers Appointed

The list of teachers is as follows Superintendent, E F Ewing; High school principal Miss Louise Stoelzing, High school, English Miss Mary Twohig, High school science Wayne S Snoddy High school, mathematics, Mrs Jessie McGordon Bancroft school principal Miss Emma Wieman sixth grade, Miss Ella aCulver, third grade Miss Mildred Drew second grade Miss Emma Jocelyn first grade, Miss Jennie Keiser Longfellow school, principal Mrs E D. Kinney, eighth grade Miss May Bell Thompson fifth grade Miss Harriet Howard fourth grade Miss Lauro Ryan second grade Miss Jennie Hadley Midland school, principal, Miss Augusta Kneip fifth grade Miss Katherine Banner; fourth and third grades Miss Glen Styles, second grade, Miss Abbie Kamber Whittier school principal, Miss Ella Caldwell sixth grade Miss Alice Wood fifth grade Miss Thetta M Walker fourth grade Miss Rae Reddick, third grade Miss Carrie Spencer second grade, Miss Ethel Gerhart, first grade Miss Caroline Salmon, specials drawing, Mrs Jemima Lynch, music Miss Mary Sweeny.

The increase in the salaries of the teachers grade to a minimum of $660 and maximum of $900 and the increase in the High school salaries was an unexpected action on the part of the board However several other changes are expected by the new board for the coming year

As several communications had been received from parents in the vicinity of the Midland school as to its poor equipment and condition the appropriation was made and work will commence at once on this

NO FURTHER ACTION ON STREET LIGHTING PLAN

What has been done with the proposition of the lighting of the streets by the arc system, which was proposed by the Chamber of Commerce several months ago is a question that the directors of that body are asking themselves The matter was referred to a committee a month ago at the city council, when the former figures of cost presented by the company were refused but no further report has been received at any of the meetings Whether the council is waiting for better figures or has dropped the proposition is not known and the chamber of commerce at its next meeting is planning to send an appeal for action in order to have the improvement before the tourist season opens

ADVANTAGES OF OWNING SOUTH CHEYENNE CANNON SHOWN IN STATEMENT TO COUNCIL

The park commission, through Chairman H. G. Lunt, yesterday sent to the city council a complete statement of facts pertaining to the proposed purchase of South Cheyenne canon and Seven Falls. The advantages which would result in the city's purchase of this property are clearly shown by figures that can not be disputed

City Attorney McKesson was asked by Commissioner Lawton to give a written opinion on the following questions before the communication was placed on file:

1. If the city of Colorado Springs purchases South Cheyenne canon, as proposed by the park commission, what water rights, if any, will it secure?

2. If the city gets no water rights with South Cheyenne canon, is there any possible danger that the owners of the water rights in the canon would divert the water in South Cheyenne creek so as to keep them from flowing over Seven Falls, thereby destroying their scenic attractiveness?

Judge Lunt's letter to the city council and the park commission's statement follow:

To the Hon. Mayor and City Council of the City of Colorado Springs.

Gentlemen:

The Park Commission submits herewith for your consideration and such action as you may see proper to take thereon, a statement which it has prepared for the information of the voters relating to the purchase of South Cheyenne canon by the city. The commission will be pleased to furnish you, when desired, all the information at its command relating to any fact in connection with the purchase of the canon. Yours truly,

THE PARK COMMISSION.
By H. G. LUNT, President.

The Statement.

To the qualified electors of the city of Colorado Springs:

A special election has been called to be held on Tuesday, May 24, 1910 for the purpose of submitting to a vote of the qualified electors of the city of Colorado Springs who shall have paid a tax upon property assessed to them in said city for the year next preceding said election, the question whether the city council shall issue bonds of said city to the amount of $220,000 for the purpose of purchasing for a public park or pleasure ground the real estate commonly known as South Cheyenne canon and Seven Falls.

The ordinance to be issued by the city council if the citizens vote in favor of such bonds shall provide "for the charge and collection of admission or entrance fees to all or any part of the property so proposed to be purchased after it shall become part of the park system of the city, in order to pay for its purchase and for the maintenance and up-keep of said park system and that the bonds issued for the purchase of such property shall be primarily payable out of the revenues arising from or out of such property."

If this property is purchased by the city it will become a part of its park system and be administered by the Park Commission, and therefore the commission presents the following statement in order that the voters may fully understand all the facts and circumstances regarding the property and its proposed purchase.

Some of the Facts.

The people of Colorado Springs have always desired that this property should belong to the city, and if possible that it should be open to the public without any entrance fee or admission. More than 20 years ago the Board of Trade of the city appointed a committee of citizens to try and arrange for the purchase of the Canon and the Falls, but without result. Many obstacles have stood in the way of the accomplishment of this purpose. In the first place, the owners asked at that time what was then considered an exorbitant price. A little later General Palmer and other citizens offered to contribute over $100,000, if the property could be then purchased at $150,000, but the then owners also refused that price. Subsequently the property was sold by the original owners to a corporation for $204,000, and has been held and operated for private profit. Suggestions and attempts were heretofore made to purchase the property by the issuing of the bonds of the city, to be paid for by general taxation, but the limit of bonded indebtedness of a city imposed by the constitution made it an unwise action, inasmuch as the limit of bonded indebtedness would be reached and thus prevent the city from issuing further bonds even in the case of an emergency or when required for such necessities as sewers, streets or other improvements. But under the constitutional provision and the new charter of the city it became possible to purchase the Canon and the Falls, provided the purchase price could be paid for out of the income of the property, the constitutional limit not applying in such cases.

Will Pay for Itself

After a thorough investigation the Park Commission believed the time had come when the property could be obtained as cheaply as it ever could in the future and were convinced that an issue of bonds to pay for the Canon and the Falls could be retired in 20 years, provided the admission or entrance fee to the Falls was continued for that length of time, thus making the income from the property pay for the bonds issued and the interest thereon.

Believing that the property would be a valuable asset to the city and a great addition to its park system, the commission took an option upon the property at the purchase price of $217,500, the property to be free of all indebtedness including the taxes of 1909 and permitting the city to take possession of the property as of the first of May 1910. This purchase price of $217,500 includes the assumption of what is known as the Hull notes, amounting to $134,000 being the balance due from the present owners of the purchase price paid by it for the property. The balance, namely, $83,500, is to be paid to The Cheyenne Canon and Seven Falls Development company.

Disposition of Bonds.

In other words, the amount of the bonds to be issued, if voted for by the people, namely $220,000, are to be disposed of as follows. $134,000 of these bonds will be sold or held in the treasury against the Hull Bros. notes; $83,500 will be paid to the said Development company as the balance of the purchase price, the balance of $2,500 will be issued in such amount only as may be necessary to meet the expenses of the election and the printing and issuing of the bonds. Out of the $83,500 paid to the Development company we understand that $2,500 is to be paid to J. R. Young as commission. Aside from this no commission fees or costs whatever are to be paid.

The Park Commission believes that it would be advisable for the city that this purchase should be made at this time and financed in the above manner. The bonds to be issued are the obligations of the city, but the bonds and interest thereon are primarily to be paid out of the income derived from the property itself. If the income is not sufficient to pay the bonds then they must be paid for by general taxation, but from the past earnings derived from concessions and admissions to the canon, we are warranted in believing that the net income in the future will surely and safely provide for the full payment of the bonds and the interest thereon.

From the books of the Development company and the receipts and expenditures for the past five years, it appears that the receipts from privileges and entrance fees would pay the proposed bond issue and interest in 20 years and that when paid for if we do away with the admission charge, the yearly rental for refreshment, photographic, etc., privileges, would far exceed the maintenance cost of the canon and contribute materially towards the maintenance of the remainder of the city's park system

The following is a summary of the matter from a financial standpoint

The bond issue of $220,000 is to be applied as follows:

For retirement of Hull notes	$134,000
To The Cheyenne Canon and Seven Falls Development company	83,500
For expense of election, etc.	2,500
	$220,000

All the equipment at the canon and about 12,000 copies of their large view book which has been retailed at 50c are included in the proposed purchase.

The Development company purchased the property from the Hull Bros in April, 1905, for $204,000. The unpaid notes now amount to $134,000, bearing 5 per cent interest per annum, $5,000 being due annually until 1924, in which year the balance of $64,000 is payable. All these notes are payable on or before maturity.

Yearly Receipts Large.

The total receipts for the year 1905 aggregated $30,463.45, but 1905 was the year of the Grand Army reunion and therefore showed exceptionally large gate receipts.

The average receipts for the years 1906 1907 1908 and 1909 (excluding the year 1905, as the receipts for that year were abnormal) amounts to $24,832.78

The average necessary costs and maintenance expense for these years was	7,485.14
The average balance left for fixed charges, interest and payments of maturing notes, amounted to	$17,347.64

Taking this average of $17,347.64, excluding the fact that the operation by the city of the canon will be materially less than by the present company, as there will be no payment of taxes and much of the work of maintenance will be done by park employes, and excluding the possible and reasonable increase in the coming years of the amount received from entrance fees, the $134,000 due upon the Hull notes and all interest will be paid for by 1924 and a balance of $3,400 left in the treasury. For instance, basing our estimate on the yearly average mentioned, in 1910 a $5,000 note and $6,850 in interest will be paid, leaving a surplus of $3,450.

In 1911 a $5,000 note and $10,750 of interest will be paid, leaving a total surplus in the treasury of $5,000.

In 1912 from the surplus and the receipts we will be able to pay two notes amounting to $10,000, pay interest of $10,500, and leave a balance in the treasury of $1,500

From 1916 to 1923 the receipts and the surplus will enable us to pay $10,000 each year, and in 1924 we will be able to pay all interest due and the balance of the Hull notes, amounting to $14,000.

After this time the income and the surplus should enable us to retire the remaining bonds in yearly amounts, or to retire them as a whole at the end of the year 1930.

Estimates Conservative.

This summary makes no allowance for any increase in revenue during the 20 years, nor for any exceptional years when any convention may be held here. It is estimated that fully 90 per cent of the visitors to the canon are tourists, and it will be seen that from that source will be derived a large portion of the money necessary to pay for the property.

It would certainly be most desirable that the canon should be open and free to citizens and to tourists but on account of the heavy burden it would entail it seems wise to the commission that the property should be paid for in the manner we have suggested rather than that the citizens should tax themselves to pay for it. These admission fees will necessarily be charged until the purchase has been liquidated, and then the canon will be open and free to everyone, as is now the entire park system of the city, with its boulevards and driveways.

As to Water Rights.

Objection has been made to the purchase upon the ground that no water rights go with the land and that therefore the owners of the prior rights to the water might divert the water from the canon and thus ruin the Seven Falls. It is true that the Development company has and conveys no direct water rights to the city other than its vested right of possession, but the facts of the case are such that the commission believes the fear of the destruction of the Seven Falls by a diversion of the water from the canon, is groundless.

The Stratton Home, we understand, has the first right to the waters of this creek. The point of diversion of the water is at present below the canon at a point that does no injury to the canon. It is true that the owner of a water right has the power to change the point of diversion provided it is not "to the injury of other appropriators." With the canon in the ownership and possession of the city, we do not believe any court will permit such diversion to the injury of the city. The Stratton Home is a charitable institution. One of its chief and most profitable assets is the Interurban Railway company, carrying passengers out to the mouth of the canon, and the trustees in charge of the Home could not afford to do any thing which would injure the canon or detract from its beauty as a place of resort, as such action would result in a reduction of the income of the Home. We do not believe that such an attempt will ever be made. The commission does not admit that the canon can in any legal way be deprived of the water and believes that it can be prevented if ever attempted.

The Park Commission in recommending the purchase of this property are simply acting, as it believes, for the best interests of the city. A large portion of the income of our people is derived from tourists. Whatever makes this region more attractive is adding so much more to our available assets. We believe that additional attractive features can be added in the canon at a small cost that will materially increase its popularity.

We have endeavored in the foregoing to give a plain and full statement of all the facts connected with this proposed purchase in order that the voters may be fully advised before voting upon the question.

AN ADDED ATTRACTION

Miss Adelaide Morrison to Give Whistling Specialty at the Opera House.

One of the best drawing cards of the vaudeville at the Opera House today and tomorrow will be Miss Adelaide Morrison, the young society girl, who has astonished local critics by her whistling. Miss Morrison already has received many flattering offers from theatrical managers in Chicago where she spent the winter studying. She appeared at several concerts in the Windy City.

Miss Morrison, who has scores of friends here, expects to appear in high class vaudeville o eastern circuits this fall and winter. Her whistling at a Stratton park concert a few weeks ago was received with much favor. She is a daughter of J. A. Morrison, a well-known insurance man of Colorado Springs.

DUQUESNE council No. 12, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets tonight in M. W. A. hall. All members are requested to attend as final arrangements will be made for the state council meeting May 10 and 11.
